Wonderful Medical Cures by the Ap-plication of Prof. DE GRATH'S

ELECTRIC OIL

ON MAN AND BEAST. To the Inhabitants of Philadelphia and Vicinity;

I propose to cure, almost instantaneously, indi-riduals afflicted with Denfaces, Headache, Neuralgia ibill Fever, Ague, Rheumatism, and all Sores and Chill Fever, Ague. Rhoumathm, and all Sores and Pains.

I propose to check and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish nearer and more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other, methods of medical aid in the same space of time, the masses themselves being judges.

I do not propose to cure nykky disease, but all such as are cutable by any continuation of medical applicances. My Electric Oil operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable to the cure or natural restoration of any organic dorangement, arising from an improper circulation of Nervovital fluid.

I want the masses to join in this matter—the well as the sick—because if these things are so, all are alike interested.

N. B. Please inform me of any case of failure to cure, in from half an hour to three weeks, as I wish to cure, or charge nothing. Depot, Philadelphia.

Balloon Ascension at Erie-Perilous Situation of the Erial Voyagers-They alight in Lake Erie.

By a special dispatch from Eric we learn that day before yesterday Prof. Lynn, the eromaut, who resides in Eric, and is one of the editors of the Dispatch, made an ascension from that city, accompanied by B. A. Baidwin, Esq., who is extensively engaged in the drug business in Eric. The afternoon was fine, and the ascension was witnessed by a delighted multitude, comprising most of the citizens of the town, besides numbers of people from the country, who were attracted there by the announcement of the ascension. nouncement of the ascension.

The wind sectued favorable for a safe and agreeable voyage on the broad highway which leads to the stars, but when they had reached the altitude of about one mile they struck a current of air which bore them directly over Lake Erie, to the great alarm of their numerous friends, who were anxiously watching their progress through spy-glasses and telescopes, from housetops and other elevated positions. After a time the balloon was seen to descend rapidly, and in a few moments, to the horror of those who were breathlessly observing it from the city, it plunged swiftly into the waters of the Jake, full five miles from the shore! The excitement became intense as intelligence of the occurrence ran like wildfire through the town, and the immediate friends of the parties were filled with the direct alarm for their safety. Even if they had not been instautly drowned, their position was one of the extremest peril-five miles from shore, and only supported by a frail willow backet which constituted their car. Numbers rushed at once to the docks, and a tug being in readiness proceeded to their rescue. Our correspondent represents the excitement which prevailed during this time to be of the most intense description. Fortunately for the reconcuts the N. Y. & E. Propeller Jefferson, which plies between Cleveland and Durkick. came along at the time, and observing the descent of the balloon, rescued them from their perilous position. They were standing in the basket op to their middle in the water, hanging on to the netting over their heads. The Erie, where they were received with every demonstration of joy. The sudden descent, which came so near resulting fatally, was caused by a defect in the arrangement of the valve. The Professor, whose arder for serial voyages was not all dampened by his cold bath in Lake Erie, announces his intention of trying it again soon. Clerk Kyle, of the propeller Jefferson, Capt. Bond, favors us with the following extract from the log book of that vessel, under date of Wednesday, 18th inst:

"As we were passing Erie yesterday, 4 P.
M., saw a large balloon about three miles high,
M., saw a large balloon a North-easterly diover Erie, travelling in a North-easterly di-rection towards the lake. Were looking at it through the glass when we saw it rapidly deseemd and strike the water. Saw two persons in the ear, one of whom was waving a white signal for relief. Capt. Bond ordered the course of the propeller to be changed toward them. Lowered a small boat and went to them found one of them to be the editor of the Eric Dispatch. Made the small boat fast to the bal loon and held them a short time, when a tug came out of Erie and took them aboard."

THE NORTH ADAMS TRAGEDY .- The investi gation into the circumstances connected with he death of Miss Mattie Butler, of North Adams, has been progressing for a week past, and has been very thorough and searching. The developments are of the most remarka-ble character, and if anything could deepen the gloom which surrounds this sad affair, is the knowledge of the fact that the reputation of the unfortunate and erring girl wa needlessey compromised. The investigation coes to show that her death was caused by uflammation of the bowels, or, as it is medically called, puerperal peritonis -that the was not pregnant, and that the doctors who attended her, mistaking her symptoms, formed an erroneous diagnosis, which was unate girl that there had been an imprope ntimacy with Littlefield. The operation which was performed upon Miss Butler just previous to her death, only aggravated her sufferings needlessly, and her dying word, were, "I can not believe I am in the family way, although the doctors say so - there has Littlefield, also, before he fled, persistently stated that his intimacy with Miss Butler could not have produced this result. The post mortem examination developed the fact that the case has been mistaken, but rather than ac-knowledge a blunder which, under the peculiar circumstances, and with the symptoms which manifested themselves, was material, the attending physicians, thinking to save their own eputation, prevaricated, and told the family f the deceased that they had found things 'as they expected!" The case, in all its asects, is probably without a parallel in the reords of modical science.

The jury have not yet returned their verdict, but there can be little doubt that it will be, bat death was caused by inflammation of the powels.

Execution at Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg Dispatch, after giving a deailed account of the murders, arrests, and trials of the murderers, has the following heart. ending description of the execution:

On Friday, the 20th, David S. Evans and Christian Jacoby, convicted of the murder of their wives, suffered the extreme penalty of

The executioner, masked under a white muslin hood, reaching to the breast, with a glazed cap on, came out, ascended the platform, adjusted the ropes, and the drop fell at precisely lifteen minutes past two.

Both strangled. It was a terrible sight. As fell, their hands and shoulders were drawn up, their bodies turned round twice or brice, and convulsions ran through the frames of both. Jacoby's hands were clenched, and after hanging a few seconds, he commenced very 'ard; his breast heaved con-Drs. Evans died hard. His chest heaved for many minutes after Jacoby was pronounced and he several times raised his hands from his side.

Both hung for thirty-five minutes, when, all pulsation having ceased, the bodies were cut down, and lowered into plain black coffins. The bodies were removed for interment at an early hour this (Saturday) morning. Evans' was taken in charge by his friends. The remains of Jacoby were taken in charge by his German friends.

THE GREAT TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR RACE. The great match between the horses Ethau Allen and Lantern, for the stakes of $5,000 a side, came off at the Union Course, Long Island, on Wednesday last. This match had been long talked of, and excited the greatest excitement of any match for a long time. The horses trotted in double barness-each being mated with a horse which galloped while the great stars trotted. Lantern broke several times, by which Ethan Allen gained. The latter conducted himself splendidly. The follow-

WATER-DRINKING .- Professor Silliman closed recent Smithsonian lecture by giving the following sensible advice to young men: "If, therefore, you wish for a clear mind, strong muscles, and quiet nerves, and long life, and power prolonged into old age, permit me to say, although I am not giving a temperance lecture, avoid all drinks but water, and mild infusions of that fluid; shun tobacco and opium, and everything else that disturbs the normal state of the system; rely upon nutritious food and mild dilutent drinks of which water is the basis, and you will need nothing beyond these things except rest and due moral regula tions of all your powers, to give you long, happy and useful lives and a serene evening at the close."
